HOW POST-OFFICE CLERKS HAVE TO WORK IN LONDON.

The hours of work in the public offices are not long; eight hours being the longest day, and six hours the shortest; but there is now crammed into these few hours such an amount of tedious, dull, uninteresting and almost unchangeable work, as to leave all, save those who are possessed of the strongest constitutions, useless for any further exertions until a night's rest has renewed their failing energies and given them another day's lease of life. To show that there is here no exaggeration, let us look behind the scenes of that most popular of all public departments, the General Post-office.

The money order office is a fair specimen of the work which is daily performed at St. Martin's-le-Grand; though the hardest worked of all the branches of the post-office are the savings bank and telegraph departments. In the money order office there are about sixty clerks constantly employed—namely, forty established clerks and twenty "writers." About forty of these clerks and writers are called "examiners," and their duty is to examine, check, correct and certify the daily accounts of all the postmasters in the kingdom; and when we mention that each postmaster sends in to the chief office daily about seven separate accounts, all of which have to be carefully examined, checked, and compared with his consolidated cash account, some idea of the stupendous nature of the work done may be arrived at. Each examiner, on reaching the office in the morning, finds on his desk an oblong box, that contains his day's work, which has been already sorted and arranged in alphabetical order by competent messengers. He will take, perhaps, for his day's work, all the towns and villages which range between the letters A and C, with the exception of such large towns as Manchester and Liverpool, if any such should come within the range of his letters; for these are immense accounts in themselves, and form one examiner's work alone. As there are about seven accounts to each postmaster—namely, the money order, savings bank, insurance, annuity, telegraph, dog and gun license, and stamp accounts—the examiner will have from seven to eight hundred accounts to add up, tick, correct, initial, and compare within the short space of six hours. This is no child's play, especially as many of the small country postmasters generally manage to have their affairs in a pretty pickle; and to a novice entering upon the work ten hours are about the time it takes him to get through with it.—Chambers' Journal.

THE LAW OF REAL ESTATE.

The absolute title of all lands, streams and lakes rests in the Government. It never wholly releases its claims. The law of eminent domain gives the sovereign power the right at any time, when necessary, to take back to itself any property before patented. Subject to that right, however, the person who receives a certain quantity of land has the absolute title against the whole world.

He may lose it:
1st. By being convicted of treason.
2d. By non-payment of taxes.
3d. By sale on execution.
4th. By allowing another person to remain in indisputed possession, claiming to own it twenty years.

He may pass it to another:
1st. By sale and deed.
2d. By gift and deed.
3d. By will.

A will can pass no title until after the testator's death.

If the owner of land dies leaving no will, the statute distributes his estate among his nearest relatives and next of kin. If the person has no relation or kin, his property, real and personal, goes to the State.

No contract or agreement for the sale of lands, or any interest whatever in real estate, is binding, unless in writing, signed by the person to be bound; excepting a lease, not to exceed one year, may be made by verbal contract, and will be binding.

When an agreement between two persons is reduced to writing and signed by the parties, they will be bound by the terms of the writing unless the other party can show fraud or mistake in the transaction. A party will be held to his agreement unless he can show beyond a doubt that there was a mistake in drawing up the writing or the other party was guilty of fraud. For this reason parties should use extra care to have their whole and entire agreement reduced to writing, if any part is written.

THE NEGRO CREATED BEFORE ADAM.

Prof. Alexander Winchell, of Syracuse University, has reprinted in pamphlet form, with the title Adamites and Pre-Adamites, an essay originally published by him in the Northern Christian Advocate, designed to show that the negro race was in existence on this globe long before the time of Adam. He favors, also, reforming the popularly received chronology, and would place the creation described in Genesis 10,500 years before the birth of Abraham, or 14,378 years before the present era. At the same time he would bring down the stone and lake-dwelling ages to within a period of not more than 6,000 years ago. In this way, he thinks, the Biblical record can be made to agree with the established facts of modern ethnological philological and geological research. Some special interest attaches to his views, because the publication of them has led to his dismissal from the Vanderbilt University, at Nashville, Tenn., where, in addition to his Syracuse professorship, he held the chair of historical geology and zoology. In spite of his earnest protestation of orthodoxy, the President of the university insisted that he was a revolutionist, and an enemy of "the plan of redemption," and he had to go.

THE DEAD QUEEN

There seems to be a fatal star shining over Spanish royalty. The position of the Kings of Spain has at all times been precarious enough; but the fate of the Queens is possibly still worse. Natural calamities join in their lives political disasters. Ex-Queen Christina is living the life of an exile in Paris. Ex-Queen Isabella is in a like position. Ex-Queen Maria, wife of Amadeo, had to take to flight out of child-bed, and, never having recovered from the shock, died when barely thirty years old. And now Queen Maria de las Mercedes is carried away after only five months of wedlock.

Deep and sincere will be the popular sorrow both in Spain and outside, for it was well known that the marriage of Alphonso XII. was not an ordinary royal union—it was a love match. The husband and wife, being in this case first cousins, were brought up together. Their affection for each other overcame all political difficulties, and even the animosity of their parents. Queen Isabella detests the Duke of Moupensier, who conspired with Serrano and Topete for overthrow in 1868. She has ever since objected to her son having anything to do with the family of her brother-in-law; yet Alphonso's attachment to his cousin stood unshaken. He was separated from her for over six years; but the moment he came to power and was enabled to return to Spain, he declared that his personal sympathies should not be regulated either by Cabinet Ministers or by his relations, and that he would not marry any woman except the one he had loved from his childhood.

Strangely enough, this love match came to be the realization of an old political scheme It was always the dream of the late King Louis Phillippe to make an alliance between his dynasty and that of the Spanish Bourbons. Almost every one of his sons was in turn proposed as the husband of the young and then maiden Queen Isabella; but England put in her veto. Intensely jealous of any increase of the power of France, she declared that no Prince of the reigning French dynasty should be the consort of the Queen of Spain. The long contest which took place in regard to this subject between the Cabinets of Guizot and Sir Robert Peel will always stand a memorable page in the diplomatic history of Europe. It resulted in a victory for the English. Isabella was married to a man she detested, Don Francisco d'Assise, and by the way of compensation to France, her sister, Maria Louisa, was allowed to become the wife of Louis Phillippe's youngest son, the Duke of Montpensier.

The members of the Orleans dynasty did not, however, despair of attaining their object. From the beginning of Isabella's misrule they exerted all their efforts to put Montpensier upon the throne of Spain. But the Spaniards hated the French too intensely to give any hope of success to a scheme of this nature. They refused to accept him even as a deputy in the Cortes.

After this defeat at the elections, the Duke retired from political life and became a naranjero, an orange merchant, as he is popularly called, on account of the immense orange plantations he possesses around Seville. The constantly growing affection between his daughter and the son of the ex-Queen made him evidently confident that, if he was unable to get the crown for himself, it would at all events be secured for one of his descendants.

And he was not mistaken. On the 23d of last January his third daughter became the Queen of Spain. The nuptial ceremony was performed in the ancient Church of Atocha by the Cardinal Primate, assisted by the Patriarch of the Indies and a long array of other distinguished priests. The ceremony was of unusual splendor even for Spain, where pageantry is carried to absurd extravagance. The festivities throughout the country lasted five days; and nobody would have believed that five months later the nation would be thrown into mourning.

The bereaved widower is not fully twenty-one years of age. The poor Queer was eighteen.

MATCHING HIM.

Dr. Guthrie was equal to any emergency, physical or otherwise. While engaged in visiting the poor, he came one day to the door of an Irish Catholic, who was determined that the Doctor should not enter his house.

"You cannot come in here," said he; "you're not needed nor wanted."

"My friend," said the Doctor, "I'm going around my parish to become acquainted with the people, and have called on you only as a parishioner."

"It don't matter," said Paddy, "you shan't come in here;" and lifting the poker, he said: "If yer come in here I'll knock yer down."

Most men would have retired, or tried to reason; the Doctor did neither, but drawing himself up to his full height, and looking the Irishman in the face, said:

"Come, now, that's too bad. Would you strike a man unarmed? Hand me the tongs, and then we shall be on equal terms."

The man looked at him in great amazement, and then said: "Och, sure, you're a quare man for a minister! Come inside." And, feeling rather ashamed of his conduct, he laid down the poker.

The doctor entered, and talked in a way so entertaining and instructive as to win the man. Pat, when he arose to go, shook his hand warmly, and said:

"Be sure, sir, don't pass my door without giving me a call."—Congregationalist.

FORTUNE-TELLER'S ALMANAC.

To dream of a mill-stone about your neck is a sign of what you may expect if you marry an extravagant wife.

It is very lucky to dream that you pay for a thing twice over; since, afterwards, you will probably take care to have all your bills receipted.

For a person in unembarrassed circumstances to dream that he is arrested is very fortunate; for it is a warning to him on no account to accept a bill.

To dream of fire is a sign that if you are wise you will see that all the lights in the house are out before going to bed.

To dream that your nose is red at the tip is an intimation that you had better leave off brandy and water.

To dream of having a great number of servants is—madness.

To dream of a bear foretokens mischief, which your vision shows you is a Bruin.

When a fashionable young lady dreams of a filbert it is a sign that her thoughts are running upon the Colonel.

If you dream of clothes, it is a warning not to go to law, for by the rule of contraries, you will be sure of a nonsuit.

When a young lady dreams of a coffin, it betokens that she should instantly discontinue tight stays, and always go warmly and thickly shod in wet weather.

THE THREE DIS-GRACES.

The Government organ in this city—which is printed in the interest of a man who a few years ago was a fugitive from justice in an Eastern city and over whose head there hangs trembling like the sword of DAMOCLES a criminal charge for which he may be indicted by the next Grand Jury; which is published by a man whose partner in a recent quartz-mining swindle has but recently served a term in the Cariboo chaingang; and which is edited by an honorary (not honorable) member of the V. P. Brigade, who not long ago was arrested on a charge of committing an infamous crime,—is not the source from which should emanate grave charges against private character. This precious trio—the three dis-graces as they may be aptly termed—have taken upon themselves the task of conserving the Public Morals. It is a trite saying that "those who live in glass houses should not throw (artificial) stones;" neither should those whose characters will not bear too close an inspection set themselves up as models of virtue or patterns of morality. From the libels of this precious trio few have been safe. They have generally attacked helpless women and children; but when their appetites cloyed with that description of food, they have not hesitated to assail the Judiciary and level against it the most deadly charge that could be preferred against a Judge—that of bribe-taking! It is generally believed that the hide of the Standard publisher, from frequent cowhidings judiciously administered in public, has become as impervious to blows as his conscience to qualms. From the crown of his head to the sole of his foot there cannot be found a square inch that does not bear a scar. The callousness is so great that a Mississippi crocodile (whose hide will flatten a bullet) would die of envy to know that a thicker-skinned creature than himself existed; and the lordly hippopotamus enjoying his mud-bath in the Nile would turn green with chagrin at the spectacle of a human (?) being who possesses a cuticle that a cannon ball fired at short range cannot penetrate. It is a fortunate circumstance for the country that the power of mischief of these three men is circumscribed; that their work falls beneath comparatively few eyes; and that the seal of public condemnation has long since been placed on their licentious style of journalism which has been deprecated from the Bench, presented by the Grand Jury, condemned by two petty juries and finally repudiated by the public.

THE CLINTON ASSIZES.

Without a word of explanation the time for holding the Clinton Assizes has been altered again to the 16th inst.! In the light of the failure of justice at Clinton in July; a similar failure at Cassiar in August; and a third failure at Clinton in October staring the Government in the face, what words of condemnation can be too strong to use when reference is made to the manner in which the public business is transacted at the Attorney General's office? We are convinced that nothing short of a complete cleaning out of the stables at James Bay will remedy the evils complained of and "secure the better administration of Justice in British Columbia." The public business is shamefully neglected by highly-paid and incompetent men who must be sent to the right-about at the earliest opportunity.

A DIAMOND ROBBERY UNPRECEDENTED.—A Mr. Hawthorne who came here from New York a few days ago on a visit, had an experience on Broadway yesterday which is simply unparalleled. Setting off his very handsome dress was a $600 diamond pin, the diameter of which was about half an inch. While sauntering up Broadway he stopped in front of Haggerty's produce establishment, and bent over a pile of coops to watch the antics of some of the chickens which were feeding. The diamond caught the eye of a silly fowl—a hen, of course—and darting its head between the laths it seized the gem. The hen swallowed the diamond, and Mr. Hawthorne's attempt to catch it gave it such a fright it rushed among the other chickens and lost its identity, so far as he was concerned. He went into the store to complain and was delayed somewhat. When he came out again the coops had all been moved, and Hawthorne could not even recognize the $600 one. A conference was held with Mr. Haggerty, and it was agreed that the only way to make sure of the jewel was to kill all the chickens in all the coops. This was not a great undertaking, for the house supplies hotels with dressed chickens, and would not have much trouble in disposing of the lot. So Haggerty agreed that if he was allowed 25 cents a dozen for killing immediately he would find the diamond. The coops were carried to the dressing-room, and the 75 dozen chickens were killed. The 858th chicken had the diamond carefully stowed away inside, and Mr. Hawthorne gladly paid $18 for the killing and $10 to the woman who found the diamond.—Cincinnati Commercial.

THE REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH FAIR.

Brilliant Costumes--Large Attendance.

The fancy fair in aid of the Reformed Episcopal Church was opened at 12 o'clock yesterday at Philharmonic Hall. The tables are covered with beautiful articles, the handiwork of ladies and friends of the congregation. The display is grand, and comprises almost everything for ornament or use from an exquisitely worked bed-spread to a pincushion. Darting from table to table were attendant sprites in the form of gaily dressed young ladies who represented historical, pastoral or fairy characters. The costumes were a distinguishing feature and rendered an affair that in any case would have been pleasant more than usually interesting. The effect on the visitors of the costumes was indeed charming, and was heightened by the excellent piano-playing of Mr. Digby Palmer, Mr. Durny and several young ladies during the day and by the Amateur Band during the evening.

From a list of the characters personated we select the following: One of the richest costumes was worn by Mrs. Dennis Harris, who represented a lady of the 17th century, with high-heeled shoes, silk skirt and bodice, lace collar and ruffles and powdered hair a la Elizabeth. Mrs. Thomas Harris sustained the character of Martha Washington with dignity and grace. Mrs. Digby Palmer was the Gipsey, who told fortunes in a tent and caused the eyes of young maidens and beaux to sparkle with anticipated pleasure. Mrs. A. A. Green appeared as a demure Quakeress in the quiet colors of the sect and the conventional spectacles. Mrs. Hibben represented the Shakesperien character of Mrs. Page. Mrs. S. Lowenberg, in mauve and white silk, appeared as Anne Page. Miss Brown was a Swiss peasant girl. The Misses McKenzie wore becoming and graceful costumes representing Greek girls. Miss Thain was "Mary, Mary, quite contrary," but is too amiable for the character. Miss Richardson appeared as a witty French waitress and Miss Mouatt became for the occasion a good-natured German Fraulein. Miss Rhoda Cridge's "Buy a Broom" costume was much admired. Miss Munro, as an Alsatian peasant girl, wore one of the prettiest of costumes. Miss Lowenberg was a coquette, who disposed of piles of goods instead of breaking hearts. Miss Millie Anderson was a merry Swiss milkmaid. Miss Alice Richardson was attired after the portrait of a young lady painted by Sir Joshua Reynolds. Miss Higgins appeared as Dolly Varden, and Miss Maud Higgins as "Little Bo Peep" in search of a flock of sheep. Miss Jennie Wark as a shepherdess, and Miss Christine Charles in the character of a French cabaretiere, wore pretty and appropriate costumes. Miss Jenny Charles and Miss Mamie Wark were frolicsome gypsies. Miss Lottie Wark was Little Red Riding Hood, and was not the least bit afraid of wolves. Miss Mary Ella and Miss Grace Adams were flower girls and looked as pretty and fresh as the sweet offerings they vended. Misses Maude and Nellie Cridge and Miss Evelyn Pemberton were charity school children and were attired in plain but very pretty costumes. Miss Nellie Devereaux was dressed as a Welsh peasant girl in a quaint and neat costume.

The fair is under the presidency of Lady Douglas, who is also a liberal patroness, and who is assisted by Mrs. Cridge, Mrs. Morison, Mrs. J. B. and H. D. Chantrell, Miss McDonald, Mrs. J. C. Davie, Mrs. Engelhardt, Miss Langley and the ladies named above, to whose united exertions the success that has attended the event is in a large measure due. The scene in the evening was animated. The room was brilliantly illuminated with vari-colored lanterns and gas jets and hung with flags and banners, and the moving throngs in the body of the hall, combined with the music of the Amateur Band, lent a charm and beauty to the affair beyond description.

To-day the Fair will be open at 12 o'clock. Many beautiful articles remain over from yesterday and will be offered at reduced prices. In the evening the following tableaux will be represented:

"Titania in Fairyland."

"Mary Queen of Scots." (execution scene.)

A scene from "Cinderella."

"The Sleeping Beauty."

"The Smothering of the Young Princes in the Tower."

The Fair will close with the characters grouped on the stage singing the National Anthem. The admittance during the day will be free; in the evening, 25 cents.

COMMUNICATIONS

Were read from Messrs. Loewen & Erb, calling the attention of the Council to the unfinished state of Discovery street. Referred to the Street Committee for report.

From Jno. Drout, petitioning the Council for leave to put down a gravel crossing from his store on Johnson street.

Coun. Williams opposed the application and on motion of Coun. Thomson the Clerk was instructed to inform Mr. Drout that the Council does not allow private crossings to be laid.

From James Smith, asking the Council to give him the exact lines of property owned by him.

The applicant was referred to Messrs. Mahood & Cridge, surveyors, for the desired information.

THE POLICE FORCE.

From the Superintendent of Police, suggesting the appointment of two police officers to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Constable Campbell and the death of Officer Bowden.

The report was received and adopted.

The Mayor stated that the numerous applications had been fully considered by the Council and that it would be only necessary now to read the names of the candidates and proceed to a ballot.

The Clerk then read the names of 16 applicants and a ballot was taken resulting as follows: O'Connor, 8 votes, Kirkup, 6; Macdonald, 2. Messrs. O'Connor and Kirkup were thereupon declared duly elected members of the force.

FINANCE.

Accounts amounting to $915.94 on Corporation account, $126.32 on Waterworks account, $12.25 on Police account and a small sum on Cemetery account, were read.

Coun. Williams asked what the total of the gas account was for the last two months?

Coun. Thomson said it was $406.

Coun. Williams thought there was something wrong. A statement had been made a short time since that the gas bill would not be more than $80 per month.

Coun. Thomson referred Coun. Williams to the bill for a corresponding period last year.

The Mayor stated that the gas bill for October, 1878, amounted to $236. The streets were not lighted with gas during September, 1878.

At the request of Coun. Thomson all the accounts were read in detail, so that the whole Council might be made acquainted with their nature. They were then referred to the Finance Committee for payment if correct.

THE $4500 APPROPRIATION.

The Mayor thought a letter should be addressed to the Government informing them of the result of the public meeting and the conference held between the Council and the City representatives as to the expenditure of the $4500 voted for the City by the legislature.

Coun. McLean thought it would be well to tell the Government that two of the city representatives were in favor of the suggestions made by the Council at the conference and two were not.

Coun. Williams was not aware that any two of the representatives had stated definitely what they were in favor of. The suggestions of the Corporation would be considered at a meeting of the city members to be held next Saturday.

Coun. Thomson suggested that the Clerk be instructed to inform the Government of the suggestions made by the Council at the conference.

Coun. Williams said that it would be well to remind the Chief Commissioner that he had promised some weeks since to employ the chaingang in the construction of an approach to Royal Hospital and that as yet he had failed to crrry out his promise.

Coun. Rome said the Government had stated that they were willing to accede to any arrangement come to between the Council and the city members. A conference had been held and he did not see that the Council had anything further to do with the city members in the matter. He thought, therefore, that the Government should be officially informed of the conclusion come to by the City Council.

After further discussion Couns. Thomson, McLean and Rome were appointed a committee to draft a communication to be forwarded to the Government on the subject.

BY-LAWS.

Coun. Mansell suggested that the main provisions of the various by-laws making regulations for the good government of the city should be printed in a comprehensive form and circulated amongst the police officers with instructions to them to take proceedings against any person violating the provisions.

The Mayor said the suggestion was a good one. By-laws were passed but unless kept prominently before the public their provisions were soon overlooked.

The attention of the Sanitary Committee was directed to the condition of the old small-pox hospital.

The Clerk was instructed to issue several notices for new sidewalks and the Council then adjourned.

THE steamer Enterprise arrived here yesterday afternoon from New Westminster with the lower mainland mails, 750 cases and 35 barrels of salmon from Haigh's cannery, 500 cases from Ewen & Co.'s cannery, account of Stahlschmidt & Ward, a quantity of miscellaneous freight and the following passengers: Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Beckingham, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. Trew, Messrs. C. Booth, Rev. Tate, J. E. McMillan, Jenkinson, P. Hughes, W. S. Freed, W. Ross, Kirkland, H. Wark, A. Ewen, Jordan, W. Savage, H. Young, W. Holmes, J. Sheehan and J. McBride.

SAANICH AGRICULTURAL SHOW.—This annual exhibition will be held to-day and should the weather prove propitious the attendance will doubtless be very numerous. Many excellent exhibits of stock and agricultural products will be made and one of the most attractive features of the affair will be the Percheron horses which Mr. Myer has decided to show.

MARINE.—The bark Princess Royal finished discharging freight yesterday afternoon and has already some 1800 cases of salmon for England on board....The bark San Luis has also discharged her cargo for this port and on the arrival of the Beaver to-day from Departure Bay will be towed by that steamer to Royal Roads, en route to Portland, for which place she has a quantity of freight.

POSITIVELY GOING.—The steamer Maude will convey passengers to Saanich Agricultural Exhibition to-day, leaving Spratt's wharf at 9 a. m. and landing excursionists within easy distance of the show grounds. Tickets for the round trip $1 each.

Municipal Police Court.

[Before Hon. A. F. Pemberton.]

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 1st.

Thomas Powe, second mate of the British bark San Luis, was charged by Wm. Bissart, a seamen belonging to the same vessel, with having assaulted him.

Mr. Courtney appeared for the prosecutor and Mr. R. Smith for the defendant.

The prosecutor testified that on Tuesday morning the second mate came to him and said, "so you are going to fight the chief mate." Witness replied that he had no such intention and the defendant then butted him with his head in the face. Witness went on board the vessel and at 8 o'clock defendant commenced to abuse him and said, "Now look here, Bissart, if you are not in gaol by 12 o'clock I'll fight you, I'll shoot you, I'll put a ball through you,—— your heart." Witness then came ashore to see a magistrate.

Augustus Parrier, chief mate of the vessel, deposed that he found the prosecutor fast asleep when he ought to have been at work. When witness asked him why he had not turned out he replied with a volley of oaths and said he was going ashore to see a magistrate. Witness told him not to go then and if he did he would give him in charge for leaving the ship without permission. The prosecutor, nevertheless, jumped ashore and told witness if he touched him "he would knock his —— head off," and used a great deal of abusive language to him. Witness did not see the second mate strike the prosecutor or push him and did not hear him threaten to shoot him.

His Honor said that he did not consider the evidence adduced sustained the charge and the summons would therefore be dismissed.

A cross charge of assault laid by Powe against Bissart was also dismissed, as was a charge against Bissart of being absent from his ship without leave.

Something for the Board of Trade.

In pursuance of a recent regulation of the San Francisco Pilot Board vessels clearing from that port for a foreign port are charged full pilot rates, whilst vessels clearing hence for foreign ports may escape without any pilotage at all. As a very natural result vessels clearing at San Francisco for Nanaimo, Burrard Inlet or any other British Columbia port are placed at a serious disadvantage with vessels that clear for an American port. Consequently vessels leaving San Francisco for British Columbia have adopted the practice of clearing for Port Townsend, where they secure the services of an American tug and are towed to the port of destination in this Province. By this arrangement the go-by is given to British in favor of American towboats, and the former lie comparatively idle whilst the latter are profitably employed. A remonstrance sent to Ottawa has met with prompt reply, and it is hoped that if a retaliatory measure cannot be imposed that the action of the San Francisco Board will be shown to be illegal. The earnings of American boats in these waters engaged in towing vessels to British ports have been as high as $6,300 in two months. The Board of Trade at their meeting to-day will probably take this important matter into consideration.

The Esquimalt Coffordam.

Nearly all the hands recently employed by the Government on the Esquimalt cofferdam were discharged on Monday last, the services of two or three being retained. The work of pumping out was commenced at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and is expected to continue for about 48 hours. As yet the cofferdam has shown no signs whatever of leakage, much to the disgust of the Attorney-General who predicted that immediately the pumping operation commenced the walls of the dam would fall in as the piles were so dreadfully rotten and worm-eaten. It is stated, however, that fears are entertained for the safety of the engine house which, we believe, was constructed by the day-work system.

NEW WESTMINSTER ITEMS.—At the last meeting of Mount Hermon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., resolutions condolatory of the death of the late Geo. W. Cole, who was a member of that lodge, were passed.... In the rifle match which took place on Saturday last the team which was unsuccessful in the Provincial match at Nanaimo defeated the five printers by 22 points. Rain fell heavily during the day and no good scores were made. A single load of logs were hauled on Friday last at Harmon's camp, South Arm of Burrard Inlet, which scaled 16,628 feet....Mr. J. Rogers, of Burrard Inlet, is seriously ill..... The volunteers are constructing a new rifle range adjoining that hitherto in use. The new range will be 800 yards long, and a substantial bulkhead is being erected in the rear in order to catch all stray bullets....The recent stormy weather has had the desired effect on the Cohoes which are now running in good numbers and keeping the fishermen fully occupied.

THE steamer Wilson G. Hunt arrived here at a quarter past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from New Westminster with 150 sheep on board, account of Mr. Croasdaile, 2 horses, 4 head of cattle and the following passengers: Mrs. Wise, Miss Oden, Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. Law, Miss Roman, Messrs. Morrissey, Chapman, J. H. Beres, Tomlinson, G. F. Simon, Sturver, G. Malcolm, Diegan, J. Resta, J. Gowen, G. Cochrane, Welsh, McKinley, Humphreys, H. Nelson, W. Blackie, H. Murray, L. Guichon, C. Beak, Jerome, F. S. Barnard, McCall, Capt. Cooper, Allison, Taylor, Small, Rutherford, J. Ramsey, 30 Indians and 20 Chinese.

"MOSSOO'S" ENLIGHTENMENT.—While on a visit to the recent Paris Exhibition an American went into a grocer's shop and asked for a tin of corned beef. While his purchase was being wrapped in paper he asked the shop-keeper whether he sold much of this meat put up in tins? "Yes, a good deal to foreigners," said the man; "the French do not care for it. You see, we can get fresh meat in this country, but in America, where this comes from,"—pointing to the tins of meat on the shelf —"all the meat is salt."

ESQUIMALT POLICE COURT.—Three seamen belonging to the British bark Pride of England, now at anchor in Royal Roads, were brought up before Wm. Fisher, Esq., J.P., at Esquimalt yesterday, and charged with absenting themselves from duty without leave. They were each sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment with hard labor. Mr. A. E. B. Davie appeared for the defendants.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Empire arrived in the outer harbor from Departure Bay yesterday morning with her usual complement of South Wellington coal. After taking on board several passengers she proceeded on her voyage to San Francisco.

Found Drowned.

On Tuesday evening last the body of an unknown man was found floating in Fraser river about a mile from Ladner's Landing. The deceased had neither coat nor vest on, but was dressed in a hickory shirt, blue drilling pants, white flannel drawers, and shoes without nails in them. The face was much bruised and discolored and it is feared that the deceased was the victim of foul play. It is surmised by some that the body is that of a young man named Alexander Finlayson, who started from New Westminster on the evening of the 19th ult. in a small boat with four other men for Haigh's fishing scow, then lying at the mouth of Fraser river. The occupants of the boat were noticed to be somewhat under the influence of liquor at the time and when off the cannery of the B. C. Packing Co. Finlayson, it is asserted, fell overboard and was never seen to rise again. The Coroner has been notified.

ROBBERY.—On Monday last the residence of Mr. John Lomax, situate at the head of Yates street, was entered by thieves who gained access to the premises through the kitchen window. They stole three locks, taken from doors in the house, a hammer, a hatchet, a pair of spectacles and several other articles. Information has been laid before the Police Magistrate by Mr. Lomax against a boy named Jones and another lad on whom suspicion rests.

THE YALE ELECTION.—A telegraphic dispatch from Yale dated Monday last states that Mr. Barnard's majority at Spence's Bridge was 12; at Lytton 11; at Yale 25; at Hope 21. Mr. Trapp had a majority of 2 at Cache Creek.

THIS IS INCREDIBLE!—A rumor is in circulation that Mr. Austin has been removed from the Treasury and appointed to the position of Clerk of the Records in place of Mr. Williams, at a reduced salary.

THE gale which prevailed on Tuesday destroyed much fruit in orchards and demolished a frame building in course of erection on Scoresby street.

IRELAND.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Bad crops and high rent rates in Ireland have caused great distress among farmers, and the recent anti-rent movement is gathering great strength. Many large meetings have been held in different counties by tenant farmers, all looking to the same end and making the same demand —fixed tenures and cheaper leases. Landowners protest against reduction; but farmers declare that it is impossible to pay the rates now charged and announce that unless their demands are granted large numbers will emigrate to America.

RUSSIA.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A Vienna dispatch says that the Emperor of Russia is suffering from mental fatigue and is daily getting worse.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 30.—The Invalide Russe gives the following details of the affair at Geoktepe: The Turcomans, numbering 15,000 combatants, with 5,000 non-combatants, retired to the fortified village of Dengitlepe, after having several times unsuccessfully attacked the Russians. The Russian attack in Dengitlepe lasted a whole day.

The village was stormed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The Russians were too tired to pursue the enemy. An official dispatch from Gen. Lemakin confirms the report of the Russian success and says that the Russians occupied Biurma on Sept. 17th.

Our European Letter.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 1st, 1879.

The various strata of English society have been greatly agitated during the past few days with an extraordinary variety of criminal sensations. In the first place the substratum composed of the millions who gloat over the horrors of the penny awful has been upheaved from its foundation by the hanging of Kate Webster, the monster who murdered her mistress and then attempted to boil down the corpse in order the more easily to get rid of it. The wretched woman was left to swing without any effort being made for a mitigation of her sentence, confessing her guilt on the gallows, and exonerating from all participation in the crime the several parties she had previously implicated. Then comes the sentence of death on young Gerald Mainwaring, belonging to a well-known family, for shooting a policeman in Derby. He had lived long enough in America to adopt the diabolical habit of carrying loaded pistols and driving one day about the streets of Derby, drunk, in company with a woman also drunk, they were arrested by a policeman and taken to the station. Just as Mainwaring was being put into a cell he suddenly turned and shot one man dead and with a second discharge wounded another. The jury, considering that to be mad drunk is an "extenuating circumstance," recommended the young man to the mercy of the court, and the judge pronounced sentence of death upon him, which has been commuted to penal servitude for life, a solemn warning to all foolish fellows who get drunk and carry pistols. And now comes the bonne-bouche of scandal for the upper pen, the great and exciting topic of discussion at the Goodwood races during the past week. The Hon. Capt. Wellesley, son of Earl Cowley, for many years British Minister at Paris, has eloped with Kate Vaughan, the dancing girl. The gay Lothario who married a daughter of Lord Loftus, late Minister at St. Petersburg, is the father of several children and was military attaché of the Russian Embassy under his father-in-law, and his escapade has produced a profound sensation throughout all swelldom.

I have before me some very startling statistics in regard to infant mortality in Paris. Only thirty-five per cent. of the children born in the "foremost city of civilization," as Victor Hugo calls it, survive the teeth-cutting period—that is, only thirty-five in a hundred live to a second birthday. The disciples of Malthus may regard this fearful mortality of the innocents, who come and vanish like snow-flakes, "'ere sin can blight or sorrow fade," as an encouraging fact. But, surely, there must be very gross violations of the laws of life and health to cause this Herodian slaughter, and to violate a law of nature is a sin. We need not look far to discover the nature of these criminal transgressions. Most children are conceived in sin and born in iniquity. Worse still, the fountain of life, or where that fountain should be, the mother's bosom, is dried up—artificially dried—by the fiat of fashion. "Great Nature's Nile that rises higher than Egypt's river," is no longer permitted to flow, as in the honest old days of Greece and Rome, when mother's were proud of their babes. Now the disinherited infant, disappointed in its first thirst for life, is given to alien breasts for nourishment, the milk of cows, of goats, and of those unhappy filles mires, or girl mothers, who, with their agitated and aching bosoms, throng the nurse-markets of Paris, in search of infants, selling their redundant and curdling milk, which can give neither health nor serenity—as the girls of Switzerland sell their superfluous hair. And there are eleven of these milk-bureaux, where the supply is always greater than the demand. A very large proportion of these sad applicants come from the country, having got rid of their own offspring, legitimately or otherwise, while the applicants for nurses are generally from the haut monde of Paris, fashionable mothers who blaspheme nature and insult the divine artist by pretending that letting their own milk flow injures the symmetry and beauty of form. On the contrary, it improves it, with a sumptuous, maternal, Juno-like opulence, as every one of taste will certify. Child murder is a crime punished by law. There is a large and respectable society in Paris, organized for the encouragement of mother-nursing. The very existence of this association, commendable as it is, seems almost like a satire on woman. One would suppose that the tenderest, the pleasantest and the most sacred of all domestic duties—that of giving the breast to the newborn child in obedience to a law of nature, which is always a pleasure—would hardly require to be enforced by a formal organization. Even Lady Macbeth, half-masculine as she appears with her blood-stained hands, exclaims, with a touch of maternal ecstacy that never fails to thrill an audience:

"I have given suck—
And know how sweet it is to feel the babe that milks me!"

It seems rather strange that the United States Government should address a circular to foreign governments on the subject of Mormonism at all; still more strange that it should go to the length of protesting against further Mormon emigration from England, Germany, Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Such a document is said to be, however, on the way, and the respective governments are requested to disuade their subjects from "yielding to the inducements of the Mormon missionaries." This is all very well, and no doubt according to the laws of the United States bigamy is a criminal offence. But the right place to begin to put a stop to it is in Utah. To attempt to prevent the landing of Mormons is absurd. The people will come in as ordinary emigrants and then go on in the usual way to the Mormon settlements. Mormonism had its origin in America and if the law were enforced there polygamy would soon come to an end, but the truth is that Mormonism is not so easily stamped out. To confess the failure openly would not suit the Federal Government, so it resorts to this roundabout method of action. It is, however, too much to expect that foreign governments will bestir themselves to accomplish indirectly what the Americans ought to do on their own account.

MR. HELMCKEN

MAY BE CONSULTED AT HIS OFFICE, VICtoria, between the hours of 9 and 12 in the morning, and 5 in the evening. mh4

DR. SPINNEY & CO'S DISPENSARY,

No. 11 KEARNEY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.

DR. SPINNEY, well known as the founder of the Montreal (C. E.) Medical Institute, and late Proprietor of the SPINNEYVILLE INFIRMARY would most respectfully inform his patients and the afflicted generally, that he still continues to treat chronic and nervous diseases with unparalleled success.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

Remember that procrastination is the thief of time so

COME AND BE HEALED!

It matters not what you troubles may be, come and let the Doctor examine your case. It will cost you nothing for consultation, so please call and satisfy yourselves whether the Doctor understands your case. If he can cure you he will tell you so; if not, he will tell you that, for he will not undertake a case unless he is confident of effecting a cure.
Parties at a distance wishing treatment, by sending $25 and a minute description of their troubles will receive in return a full course of treatment securely packed so as not to excite curiosity.
DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit Five Hundred Dollars for every case of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE

—EFFECTED BY—

California Elastic Truss!

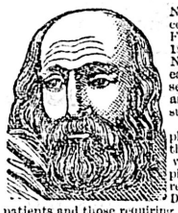

CALIFORNIA ELASTIC TRUSS CO., W. J. Horne Proprietor—Dear Sir: I feel that I owe it to you and to humanity to write the fact that I have been SUBSTANTIALLY CURED of a bad case of rupture of thirty years' standing, by one of your incomparable Trusses, which I purchased from you three months ago. I cannot describe the suffering, both physically and mentally, that I have undergone during that period; and now I feel like a new being. I have worn all kinds of Trusses, both Steel and Elastic, and never received any permanent relief until I tried yours. Its simplicity of construction, and facility with which it can be adjusted, and the ease and perfect freedom to the motions of the body with which it can be worn without causing any irritation, are its chief merits, and it is a perfect supporter. I have not had any sign of a return of the rupture since the first day I put it on and feel that I am PERFECTLY CURED. It is invaluable, and the fact should be known to the world. You can refer anyone to me on the subject of its merits I am truly yours. ALFRED J. BURKE, Chief Mail Clerk S. F. Daily Evening Post.
